

Landline from O2

Did you know O2 now offer landlines?

The O2 landline service runs on the BT network so you will still receive the quality and strength of an established network and their portfolio of business services.

What is O2 offering?

*Landlines – Also known as an analogue line - One line, One Number

*ISDN2 – Two channels one one line for voice, data or fax which can be expanded with your business.

*ISDN30 – Up to 30 channels on one line for voice, data or fax. You can add more lines as your business grows.

*Calls Only – If you want to sign up without a line you can pay your existing provider for your line rental and O2 for your calls

We can port your existing numbers for your current provider or install completely new ones.

The new landline service from O2 is flexible for business so we can move your existing number from BT to O2, set up a new number or just move the calls.

If you already have an O2 mobile account you will see even more benefits and even bigger savings. If you are not yet an O2 mobile customer we can set an account up for you with a new number or move existing numbers from another network. By bringing both your mobile and landlines to O2 you will benefit from one bill and one provider giving you one convenient point of contact here at Aerial Telephones to manage any issues, upgrades or changes throughout your contract term.
